

Olly Murs--"That Girl" Lyrics

There's a girl but I let her get away
It's all my fault coz pride got in the way
And I'd be lying if I said I was OK
About that girl the one I let get away

I keep saying no—this can't be the way it was supposed to be
I keep saying no—there's gotta be a way to get you close to me

Now I know you gotta speak up if you want somebody
Can't let him get away, oh no
You don't wanna end up sorry the way that I'm feeling everyday
No no no no, there's no home for the broken heart
No no no no, there's no home for the broken

There's a girl but I let her get away
It's my fault coz I said I needed space
And I've been torturing myself night and day
About that girl, the one I let get away

I keep saying no—this can't be the way it was supposed to be
I keep saying no—there's gotta be a way to get you
Gotta be a way to get you close to me

You gotta speak up if you want somebody
Can't let him get away, oh no
You don't wanna end up sorry the way that I'm feeling everyday
No no no no, there's no home for the broken heart
No no no no, there's no home for the broken

No home for me—no home coz I'm broken
No room to breathe—and I got no one to blame
No home for me—no home coz I'm broken
About that girl, the one I let get away

So you better speak up—can't let him get away oh no no
You don't wanna end up sorry the way that I'm feeling everyday
No-o-o-oh, there's no home for the broken heart
No-o-o-oh, there's no home for the broken

Oh
You don't wanna lose that love
It's only gonna hurt too much (I'm telling ya)
You don't wanna lose that love
It's only gonna hurt too much (I'm telling ya)
You don't wanna lose that love
Coz there's no home for the broken
About that girl, the one I let get away
